The Department of Educational Leadership offers the following degrees.

- Master of Arts in Teaching in Community College Education
- Master of Science in Workforce Education Leadership
- Doctor of Philosophy in Community College Leadership
- Master of Science in School Administration
- Educational Specialist in Education with a concentration in School Administration
- Doctor of Philosophy in Elementary, Middle, and Secondary Education Administration

A student applying for admission to a degree program in the Department of Educational Leadership must submit a complete admission packet to the Graduate School and adhere to the following deadlines.

M.S. and Ed.S. programs in School Administration will admit students for the summer term of each calendar year. The M.S. application deadline is May 1; the Ed.S. deadline is March 1.

All other programs will admit students twice a year. No applications are accepted after these deadlines for the respective admission semesters.

Spring	October 1
Summer	March 1
Fall	March 1

A complete admission packet includes:

- application to the graduate degree program;
- statement of purpose;
- three letters of recommendation;
- GRE scores; and
- official transcripts from each college or university attended.

In order for applications to be evaluated for admission, the department may require additional information for each program area.

A student admitted to a program must maintain continuous enrollment. A student who is not enrolled for one semester is required to submit a readmission application and a new statement of purpose. The readmission must be approved by the graduate coordinator. If a student has not been enrolled for one calendar year, the applicant must submit a new application and statement of purpose and be considered for readmission into his/her degree program.

Community College Programs

Master of Arts in Teaching in Community College Education (M.A.T.)

The Master of Arts in Teaching in Community College Education is an interdisciplinary, distance learning degree program designed to prepare professionals for teaching in a community college setting. The degree prepares educators for service in rural community colleges and requires a minimum of 18 hours in the student's teaching field. The professional education sequence of 15 hours includes an internship experience. The education courses introduce students to the philosophy and culture of the community college and prepare them to teach non-traditional and first-generation students. Sensitivity to diversity and adult learning theory is also included in the curriculum. The program is offered through the Center for Distance Education.

Admission Criteria

To be eligible for admission to the program, the applicant must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution, meet the basic requirements specified for graduate students at Mississippi State University, demonstrate interest in the mission of community colleges, and demonstrate academic proficiency based on the following indicators:

1. grade point average (GPA) of 2.75 on a 4.00 scale on the last half of the bachelor's degree,
2. GRE score results,
3. three letters of reference, and
4. indication of teaching specialty (e.g., history) in the purpose statement.

Master of Science in Workforce Education Leadership

The Master of Science in Workforce Education Leadership is a distance learning program designed to prepare professionals for employment in workforce education in post-secondary educational institutions and social services entities, advancing the knowledge base of workforce preparation, workforce development education, and professional development. The program is offered through the Center for Distance Education.

Admission Criteria

To be eligible for admission to the program, the applicant must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution, meet the basic requirements specified for graduate students at Mississippi State University, demonstrate interest in the mission of community college and/or workforce issues, and demonstrate academic proficiency based on the following indicators:
